

Gandhi Research Foundation

• Satya • Ahimsa • Shanti

Gandhi research foundation is an international organization based in Jalgaon, Maharashtra. This organization is dedicatedly engaged in trying to develop the new generation with the culture of non-violence, coexistence, preservation and love of all living beings. To achieve this goal, we carry out various activities locally and globally, for example, projects of various interest areas, training in the field, rural development efforts and many such people-oriented activities. “Khoj Gandhiji Ki” Museum, created by the Foundation, is the world's first audio-guided and multimedia museum depicting Gandhi's life-works in innovative ways.

“Responsibility will mellow and sober the youth and prepare them, for the burden they must discharge.”

– Mahatma Gandhi

Gandhi Research Foundation

•Satya •Ahimsa •Shanti

A 12-day (December 21, 2022 to January 1, 2023) youth camp, National Gandhian Leadership Camp (NGLC), will be organized by the Gandhi Research Foundation for capacity building in leadership. Participants can be from different organizations such as NCC, NSS and students' unions, or they can be students of political science, as well as activists, social workers and youth leaders at regional levels. Around 50 participants from different states of India will be included in the camp.

National Gandhian Leadership Camp 2022-23

Objectives

- ▶ Building leadership skills based on Gandhiji's ideas and their relevance in the current political context;
- ▶ Developing peace ambassadors;
- ▶ Building environmental and development-based Leadership;
- ▶ Motivating the youth to create a nonviolent society;
- ▶ Laying the foundations for public administration and policy;
- ▶ Effective participation of youth and facilitating their leadership in governance.

Participant's feedback

It helped me develop my leadership skills and this camp played an important role in changing my mindset. Will be committed to positive change in future and this platform has connected me to a vast network of youth.

- Anshukumar, Hyderabad

Methodology & Contents

- | | | | |
|-----------------------|------------------------|-----------------------------|------------------------------|
| ▶ Field studies | ▶ Role play | ▶ Community dialogue | ▶ Rural lifestyle experience |
| ▶ Training/Workshop | ▶ Group assignments | ▶ Lectures | ▶ Travel |
| ▶ Cultural programmes | ▶ Communication skills | ▶ Use of a variety of media | |

Got a chance to get introduced to the cultural values of the people who came from different regions of the country. The camp also provided a platform for expanding my horizon. I am glad to have received inspiring experiences.

- Pratyey Malkar, Kolkata

Even in modern times, we can live a very simple and basic life, and the knowledge for that was received through this camp.

- Hiren Chawan, Gujarat

National Gandhian Leadership Camp 2022-23

Camp Fee: ₹ 1,000/- per candidate

After receiving permission from the affiliated authority to enrol in this programme, please use the link below.

On receipt of the registration, the GRF will confirm your acceptance, upon which a non-refundable fee of ₹ 1,000/- has to be deposited in the GRF's bank account or through PhonePe.

Link: <https://forms.gle/oxUt9tfTL7P4WKsTA>

Important dates:

- ▶ Last date for registration : 10 Nov. 2022
- ▶ Last date for depositing the fee amount : 15 Nov. 2022
or as soon as the confirmation has been received.

The foundation will be in charge of the arrangements for food and accommodation of the camp participants. The commute to the foundation has to be dealt by the participants themselves.

The Gandhi Research Foundation retains the right to make any changes in the organization of the NGLC.

For More Information

Gandhi Research Foundation

•Satya •Ahimsa •Shanti

Gandhi Teerth, Jain Hills, Jalgaon - 425 001 (Maharashtra) India;

Phone: 0257-2260033, 2264803;

Email: info@gandhifoundation.net; Website: www.gandhifoundation.net