

Gandhi Research Foundation

•Satya •Ahimsa •Shanti

The Gandhi Research Foundation is organizing a National Gandhian Leadership Camp for Indian youth, focusing on capacity building in community leadership. It is a twelve day residential program, scheduled from 21 September to 03 October 2026, which will be held at Jain Farm, Wakod (Jalgaon).

Participants will be selected from students (aged 22-30 years), with priority being given to NSS, NYK and NCC volunteers as well as to youth activists and social workers associated with voluntary and non-governmental organizations. The intake of participants will be limited to fifty.

“Only he can be a leader who never loses hope”

– Mahatma Gandhi

National Gandhian
Leadership Camp
2026

Gandhi Research Foundation

•Satya •Ahimsa •Shanti

The Gandhi Research Foundation is an international organization located in idyllic surroundings outside Jalgaon, Maharashtra. This organization is committed towards instilling in the new generation a culture of non-violence, coexistence, preservation and the love of all living beings. To achieve this goal, we carry out a wide spectrum of activities locally and globally, for example, projects focusing on crucial contemporary issues, leadership training workshops, rural regeneration initiatives and many other Gandhian oriented enterprises. The “Khoj Gandhiji Ki” Museum, created by the Foundation, is the world's first audio-guided and multimedia museum depicting Gandhiji's life-work and his relevance for today in a most innovative manner to inspire our contemporary youth.

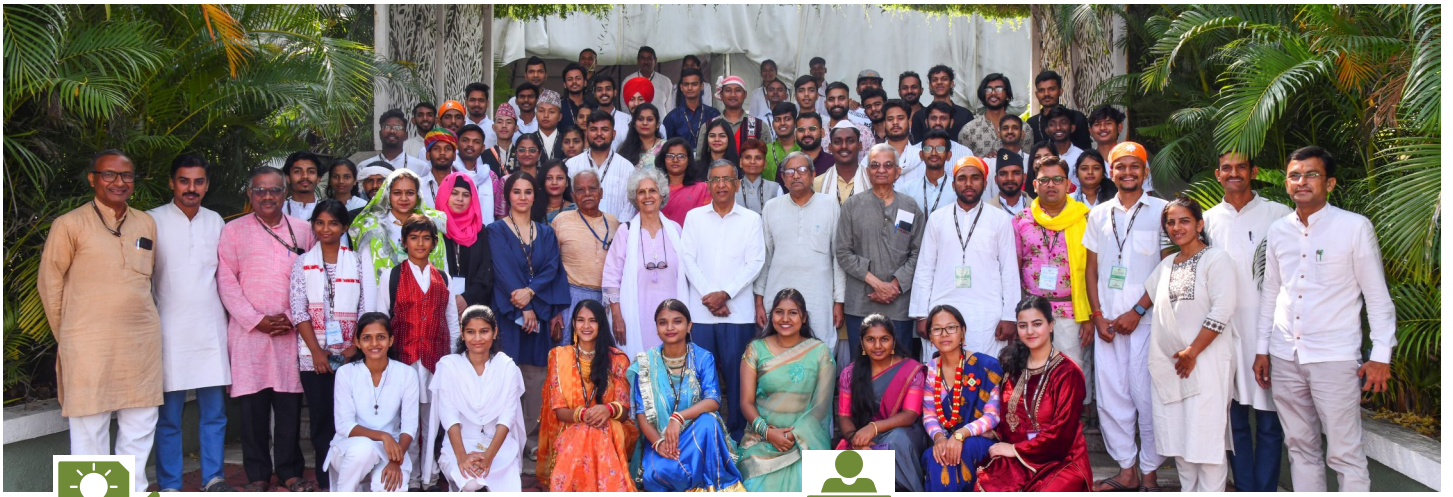

National Gandhian Leadership Camp 2026

Objectives

- ▶ Imparting knowledge and skills on leadership, based on Gandhiji's ideas and practices, and in sync with the current Indian socio-political context;
- ▶ Training the participants to become Gandhian ambassadors, committed to creating a culture of nonviolence and peace
- ▶ Forming an environmental and development-based leadership;
- ▶ Motivating the youth to create a nonviolent society;
- ▶ Introducing the participants to the principles of good governance and public administration policies.

Methodology & Contents

- ▶ Field studies
- ▶ Role play
- ▶ Community dialogue
- ▶ Rural lifestyle experience
- ▶ Training/Workshop
- ▶ Group assignments
- ▶ Lectures
- ▶ Travel
- ▶ Cultural programmes
- ▶ Communication skills
- ▶ Use of a variety of media

Faculty

The camp will be led by a panel of eminent and experienced experts, comprising prominent Gandhian Thinkers, Scientists, Educationists, as well as Constructive Workers.

“ I got a chance to get introduced to the cultural values of people who come from different regions of the country. The camp also provided a platform for expanding my horizon. I am glad to have received many inspiring experiences.

- Pratyey Malkar, Kolkata

“ My own thoughts were strengthened and I was able to understand the new method of education.

- Amrita Minj, Jharkhand

“ A better way to spread eternal thoughts, building a long-term alumni network to share details of future endeavours.

- Mankala Limbu, Nepal

Participants' Feedback

“ In today's climate, problems can be solved by applying Gandhiji's ideas and practices. A glimpse of effective leadership was gained throughout all sessions of this camp.

- Mohan Dixit, M.P

“ It helped me develop my leadership skills. This camp played an important role in changing my mindset. I will be committed to bring about positive change in future. This platform has connected me to a vast network of youth.

- Anshukumar, Hyderabad

National Gandhian Leadership Camp 2026

To enrol in this programme, please use this link:

<https://forms.gle/SfyexjWzeXmjvWgs8>

On receipt of the registration, the GRF will confirm your acceptance, upon which a non-refundable fee of ₹2,000/- has to be deposited in the GRF's bank account or through PhonePe.

The Foundation will arrange for the food and accommodation of the camp participants. Travel arrangements and expenses are the responsibility of the participants.

Camp Fees: ₹ 2,000/- per participant

Important dates:

- ▶ Last date for registration: 30 June 2026
- ▶ Details regarding the camp fee payment schedule will be communicated in the selection email

The Gandhi Research Foundation retains the right to make any changes in organizing the NGLC.

Camp Venue:

Gandhi Teerth, Jain Hills, Shirsolli Road, Jalgaon - 425001, Maharashtra

For more information

Gandhi Research Foundation

•Satya •Ahimsa •Shanti

Gandhi Teerth, Jain Hills, Jalgaon - 425 001 (Maharashtra) India;

Mobile: 9404955272, 9415370625; Phone: 0257-2264803;

Email: academics@gandhifoundation.net; Website: www.gandhifoundation.net